

DCD>Converged Hong Kong

The continuing evolution of Hong Kong's digital landscape into the realms of cloud, data center and managed services presents new opportunities for organisations looking to align their data infrastructure with their strategic needs. As a new era of opportunity beckons for Hong Kong, find out how international and local organizations will meet their data infrastructure needs in an innovative and efficient manner.

The quality and variety of available hosting, colocation, cloud and build options create a wide range of possible choices that need to be gotten right the first time; but it's not a case of one size fits all. Join 400 senior IT professionals in this comprehensive and extensive agenda, where you will be able to learn how to best implement key IT strategy and operational initiatives to increase your business advantage.